Here’s what public needs to know about hospital safety during pandemic

Health care leaders at Springfield’s main hospitals and clinics say their facilities are safe and people should seek the care they need. State Journal-Register