Rate of deaths, illness among black residents alarms cities

Chicago’s mayor pledged a public health campaign amid alarm that an overwhelming number of African American residents were among the COVID-19 deaths in early data. Associated Press