Trump EPA still hasn’t told thousands of Americans about cancer risks from ethylene oxide

Nearly two years after the US EPA identified hot spots of EtO nationwide, the Trump administration hasn’t told thousands of Americans they face elevated cancer risk from EtO. Chicago Tribune

©2020 Illinois Health and Hospital Association